Important notes concerning Arabic language courses for speakers of other languages at the Language Center

Students interested in studying Arabic language courses for speakers of other languages at the Language Center should be aware of the following:

- 1. Arabic courses are taught for 20 hours per week for a total of 280 contact hours during the fall or spring semester and for a total of 140 contact hours during the summer semester.
- 2. Experience has shown that different home universities differ significantly in terms of ECTS equivalency for the Arabic courses at the Language Center. For example many home universities assign 30 ECTS for a course studied during the fall or spring semester, whereas some have only assigned 12 ECTS for the same course. The decision rests with the home university depending on the student's program of study at the home university.
